A brief report

A two-day National Workshop on "Functional Traits, Ecology and Phylogeny" was organized by the Department of Geology, Kabi Jagadram Roy Government General Degree College, Mejia, Bankura-722143 on April 22-23, 2022 (Saturday & Sunday) at 3.30PM on virtual mode.

The Seminar was initiated by the welcome address of Dr. Aresh Kumar Maji, IQAC coordinator and Head, Department of Geology. In his address Dr. Maji emphasized on the need of conducting such workshop, based on field related data and information, after the prolonged gap of geological field work due to Covid Pandemic. Participation:

This seminar was organized for especially for the students/scholars of Geology background. Twenty participants, including students from current batch, some ex students of this department and other institution (faculty/professional) attended the workshops.

Objective and process of programme:

Ichnological studies have been complementing sedimentological analyses in the exploration and production of hydrocarbons for some decades. Ichnofabric analysis has proven to be an invaluable tool in core description and the interpretation of depositional environments. Together with sedimentary, diagenetic and structural features, ichnological heterogeneities may have a positive or negative impact on reservoir quality and connectivity, depending on the kind of involved burrows. Utility of ichnology also stands in sequence stratigraphy.

Keeping in mind the target audience of the workshop, i.e, the undergraduate geology students, this workshop was designed as an introduction to the subject and covers major and relevant aspects of ichnology. It was delivered by a mixture of lectures, demonstrations and practical exercises.

The following topics were covered:

- Ichnological basics, principles and concepts
- Applications of ichnological studies
- Characteristics of trace fossils
- Recognition of key ichnotaxa in core
- Interpretation of palaeoenvironments

After an introduction to the subject and an overview of major fields of applications, the ichnofacies concept and the ichnofabric analysis had been outlined. A principle focus of the workshop was to recognize the most important and recurrent ichnotaxa in rock record. Integrated ichnological-sedimentological analysis leads to the interpretation of palaeoenvironmental conditions, including oxygenation, salinity, nutrition and sedimentary energy level.

Organizing secretaries of the workshop were Dr. Nivedita Chakraborty and Ms. Indrani Mondal. The technical session on the first day of workshop i.e 22nd April was coordinated by Dr. Chakraborty while on 23rd April Ms. Indrani Mondal conducted the workshop.

In the valedictory session Dr. Asesh Kumar Maji conveyed the vote of thanks. He expressed his sincere gratitude to the resource person Ms. Sreetama Aich for her lucid lectures and friendly discussion. He shared thankfulness to his departmental colleagues Dr. Nivedita Chakraborty and Ms. Indrani Mondal for organizing the event and all other participants, especially the students for their spontaneous response and support.

Outcome of the workshop:

With a spontaneous response from students, the workshop was a memorable educational event. The practicum aided the participants to learn about an interesting topic with high academic relevance, research potential and industrial applications from an expert in this particular field. Participants had a chance to know this particular topic from grass root level to beyond their academic curriculum. They were academically enriched through the free interaction with the resource person who is herself a researcher in this field.

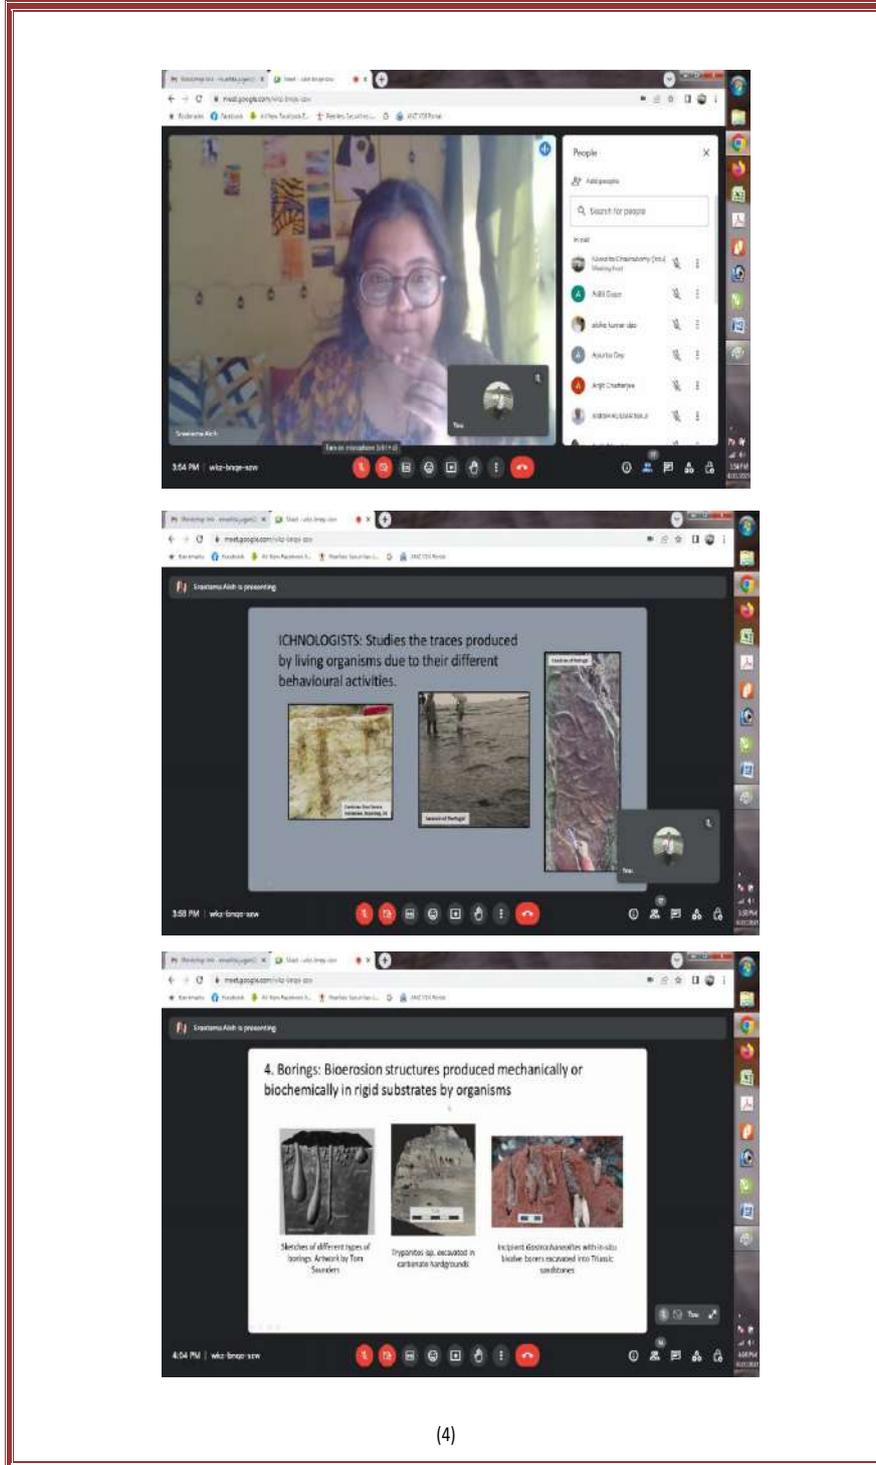

Student's Feedback:

- After a long gap of geological field work due to COVID Pandemic students were very happy to glimpse field photographs and field related information. They addressed this workshop as an academic treat.
- Students had a free interaction with the resource person, a young scientist and researcher.

March 29, 2023 (Wednesday), 11.30 AM

About the programme:

Gender equality is a fundamental human right and a prerequisite for building a peaceful, prosperous and sustainable society. The UN Sustainable Development Goal (SDG) 5 underscores the need to achieve gender equality and empower all women and girls, and this Goal is integral to the achievement of all the other SDGs. To further the attainment of the SDGs and Goal 5, it is imperative that institutions and individuals step up to address issues of gender based violence and discrimination on priority in various ways. Conducting gender sensitization programmes is thus an important step in this regard to fight against gender discrimination and to promote gender sensitive spaces.

Celebrating the International Women’s Day, 2023 the Internal Complaints Committee [I.C.C.] and the Gender Sensitization Committee of Kabi Jagadram Roy Government General Degree College, Mejia, Bankura-722143, W.B. jointly organized a programme on Gender Sensitisation on 29th March, 2023 at 11.30 in the Gallery-1 of their college. On the eve of this auspicious occasion a one-day Workshop was conducted by শ্রমজীবী নারী মঞ্চ (Shramajibi Nari Mancha) on “আন্তর্জাতিক শ্রমজীবী নারী দিবসের ইতিহাস ও আজকের লিঙ্গ সাম্যের লড়াই” (History of International Laborer Women’s Day and today’s fight on Gender Equality).

In line with the University Grants Commission’s (UGC) guidelines for creating safe campuses for women students and employees, this workshop was organized to promote the cause of gender equality in general and also to have conversations to enable gender sensitive spaces in all spheres. The workshop highlighted the importance of dismantling gender stereotypes starting with our individual behaviors, and underscores the various ways in which protective and redressal mechanisms at the institutional level can be accessed in times of distress.

Students' Feedback:

Sl. No.	Student Details	Feedback
1.	Sumana Bhandary, Roll No: 2014008 English (H), Sem-6	Firstly, I thank all the professors of our college for gifting us such a nice programme on the occasion of the celebration of International Women's Day, 2023. This programme not only gave us ideas about women empowerment but rather more intensely enlightened us about the social prejudices against women and repressive societal strategies tactfully curbing women's freedom and rights. This workshop, I believe, had immensely impacted all the students of our college. Even a few days ago, I sincerely believed and followed the social restrictions imposed upon the women and the societal constructions about the hierarchical differences between the men and the women. However, this programme had been an eye-opener for me. It had enlightened me about the "constructed" nature of gender which, in many ways, is responsible for the prevalent gender discrimination towards the women in a patriarchal social set up. This programme had made me believe that all of us have to come forward to deconstruct the unjust and falsified social constructs about gender so as to unveil the truth and cater to justice towards the women. For this we need courage and inspiration that we can derive from such programmes. We, therefore, want more such programmes like this for the truth to prevail.
2.	Sunanda Choudhury, Roll No: 2035131 Geology (H), Sem-6	A lot of thanks to our Respected professors, the Chief Guest of ICC and Gender Sensitization Committee for organizing such a wonderful workshop. It was really helpful for us. We got to know the brief history about women welfare, and on this platform, we got the chance to share the various problems faced by women in this society. Our thoughts for providing better rights to women were also being beautifully described in this Workshop.
3.	Pratima Mahanta, Roll No: 2014099 English (H), Sem-6	We have been thoroughly enriched by the programme (workshop) organised by ICC and GSC of our college to celebrate International Women's Day, 2023. We came to learn a lot not merely about the position of the women in our society but also about the hitherto unknown aspects that need to be focused to so as to ensure the women's rights in the society. We consider ourselves truly fortunate to have been given a chance to listen to the valuable lectures by the resource persons. We want our college to conduct more such programmes in the days to come. I cordially thank the Principal Sir and all the professors of our college for organising this programme.
4.	Susmita Bhattacharjee, Roll No: 2014130 English (H), Sem-6	The programme conducted by the ICC and GSC of our college on the occasion of International Women's Day Celebration, 2023 had inspired us immensely. We came to know a great deal about the women's rights in the programme. I whole-heartedly thank our Principal Sir and all the professors of our college for organising such a thought-provoking programme. We hope to experience more such programmes/workshops like this in future.
5.	Sunanda Chakraborty, Roll No: 2014080 English (H), Sem-6	The three-hour long programme conducted by the ICC and GSC of KJRGDC, Mejia to celebrate the International Women's Day, 2023 had inspired us a lot and enlightened us about the women's rights. This workshop had encouraged us to unhesitatingly and bravely express the problems confronted by us in our daily life. This workshop had made us realise why even in 2023 the women fail to get their rights in the society. I thank our Principal Sir and all the professors of our college as well as the eminent resource persons of the programme who are relentlessly and actively working on the issues of women's rights on the ground level. We hope to attend more such programmes which will inspire and strengthen us to move forward overcoming all the obstacles.

6.	Nilkanta Mondal, Roll No. – 2014009 English (H), Sem-6	I'm thankful to ICC and other concerned parties for arranging the workshop (on 29. 03. 2023) as it not only allowed me to recognize the prevailing gender inequalities and stereotypes, but it also helped me to form a rational mind-set and speak against gender discrimination.
7.	Aparna Gorai, Roll No: 2214054 English (H), Sem-2	I have thoroughly enjoyed the programme organised by ICC and GSC of our college for celebrating International Women's Day, 2023. We could learn a lot from this workshop. If the college organises more such programmes, we would be able to learn more. Hope such programmes would take place regularly.
8.	Nilima Maji, Roll No: 2214038 English (H), Sem-2	The workshop organised by ICC and GSC had been an amazing experience for me. I could come to know a lot of concepts which were then unknown to me. Hope such programmes will be organised again and again in our college.
9.	Moumita Ghosh Roll No: 2214095 English (H), Sem-2	I have been deeply inspired by the programme held in our college with the collaborative efforts of ICC and GSC to celebrate International Women's Day, 2023. The workshop had been an enriching experience for me. I have whole-heartedly enjoyed it. I wish that more such workshops are conducted in our college to enhance our knowledge and understanding further.

Date: March 13, 2023 (Monday); Time: 11.00AM

A one-day Workshop on “STUDY OF MODERN SEDIMENTS IN DAMODAR RIVER BASIN” was organized by the Department of Geology, Kabi Jagadram Roy Government General Degree College Mejia, Bankura-722143, W.B. on March 13, 2023 (Monday) at 11.00AM. The Seminar was initiated by the welcome address of Nivedita Chakraborty, Assistant Professor, Department of Geology. In his address Dr. Chakraborty emphasized on the relevance of the seminar and the need of conducting such seminars. She welcomed all the dignitaries: the Officer-in Charge of KJRGDC Prof. Alope Kumar Das; the Resource Person Prof. Subir Sarkar, Professor, Jadavpur University; Dr. Aresh K Maji, Associate Professor, IQAC Co-ordinator and HOD, Department of Geology; faculty members of Dept. of Geology and other departments, students and the non-teachings faculties.

The Workshop was inaugurated by Chief Patron Prof. Alope Kumar Das, Officer-in- Charge, KJRGDC. In his inauguration speech he thoughtfully addressed his concern regarding this educational initiative, welcomed all the delegates and participants, expressed his cooperative gesture towards the organizing committee and encouraged the students for their active participations.

After the introduction Prof. Sarkar started the classroom session where he enlightens the preliminary ideas about the modern sediments and then we all move towards the field session. Field work was done around the bank and bar of the Damodar river.

Participation:

This seminar was organized for especially for the students. Apart from the students of the Department of Geology, KJRGDC, students of the Shahid Matangini Hazra Government General Degree College for Women also participated. Around 20 participants, mostly students from current batches and few ex-students of his department, attended the workshop.

Seminar Objective:

Understanding how sediments move in the river system helps predict erosion patterns, crucial for infrastructure, agriculture, and ecosystems. Analysing sediment composition and structures aids in reconstructing the basin's historical landscape evolution and past environmental conditions. Identifying sediment sources and pathways informs land use planning, soil conservation, and erosion mitigation. Sediment analysis reflects pollution levels, aiding in managing and restoring aquatic habitats. Comparing modern sediment characteristics with geological records helps infer past environmental changes. Sediment dynamics affect river flow, flood behaviour, and water resource management. Insights from sediment studies inform policies for balancing development with environmental conservation, promoting resilience to change. In summary, studying modern sediments in the Damodar River Basin informs decision-making and management of natural resources, considering the complex interactions between geomorphology, environment, and human activities. Keeping this in view, Department of Geology, Kabi Jagadram Roy Government General Degree College took the initiative of organizing a one-day workshop on "STUDY OF MODERN SEDIMENTS IN DAMODAR RIVER BASIN" so that undergraduate students of this department get a chance to learn this specialized yet topical subject in connection with their Sedimentology core paper under CBCS curriculum.

Seminar Outcome:

With a spontaneous response from students, the seminar was a memorable educational event. The event aided the participants to learn about an interesting and essential topic with high academic relevance and research potential from an expert in this particular field. Participants were academically enriched through the free interaction with the resource person. They also got chance with a hand on training to identify the primary sedimentary structures in field and also understand the mechanism practically under the guidance of the Resource person during field session.

A Report

A one-day Seminar on “Clay minerals and their applications in Earth Sciences” was organized by the Department of Geology, Kabi Jagadram Roy Government General Degree College Mejia, Bankura-722143, W.B. on 14th March, 2023 (Tuesday) at 2.30PM at Room No. 301.

The Seminar was initiated by the welcome address of Dr. Nivedita Chakraborty, Convener of the event, Department of Geology. In her address Dr. Chakraborty introduced the audience with the resource person Dr. Tathagata Roy Choudhury, National Post-Doctoral Fellow, Jadavpur University, Kolkata. She focused on the significance of the seminar topic and its relevance to the undergraduate geology students. Dr. Aresh Kumar Maji, IQAC coordinator appreciated the initiative of organizing seminar on such applied topic aimed to enhance students’ knowledge beyond the syllabus and to boost their future prospectives in the field of research or industry based job. The Chief Patron of this seminar, Prof. Alope Kumar Das, Officer-in-Charge, KJRGDC shared his personal opinion regarding this educational initiative, welcomed the delegates and participants, and encouraged the students to learn something new to them. Twenty (20) participants, mostly students from current batches and few ex-students of this department, attended the lecture.

Seminar Objective:

Among the world's most important and useful industrial minerals, clay minerals are of great significance. Clay minerals are the most common product of chemical weathering and, thus, are the main constituent of fine-grained sediments and rocks (mud rocks, shales, clay stones, clayey siltstones, clayey oozes, and argillites). They are an important constituent of soils, lake, estuarine, delta, and the ocean sediments that cover most of the Earth's surface. They are used in a number of geological applications such as stratigraphic correlations, indicators of environments of deposition and temperature for generation of hydrocarbons.

Keeping in mind the target audience of the workshop, i.e, the undergraduate geology students, this seminar was designed as an introduction to the subject and covers the relevant aspects of this application oriented advance topic.

The following topics were covered:

- Clay minerals: Definition and scope of study
- Clay minerals: Basic structure and chemistry
- Clay mineral formation: sedimentological perspective
- Clay mineral formation: Geological significance
- Clay mineral identification: modern analytical techniques
- Application of clay mineral studies in modern geoscience research

The main objective of this seminar was to introduce the audience with this potential and application oriented topic in an easy method. This interesting and advance topic was chosen to bridge the gap between regular syllabus based learning and applied carrier field in earth science.

The technical session of the seminar was coordinated by Dr. Nivedita Chakraborty, convener of this event. In the valedictory session Dr. Aresh Kumar Maji conveyed the vote of thanks. He expressed his sincere gratitude to the resource person Dr. Tathagata Roy Choudhury for his highly informative lecture and meaningful discussion. He shared thankfulness the participants, inside and outside the college.

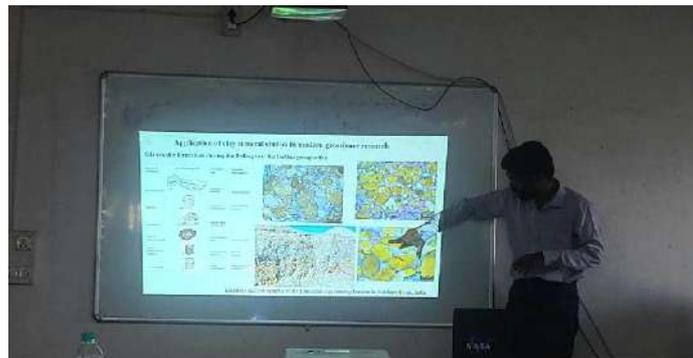

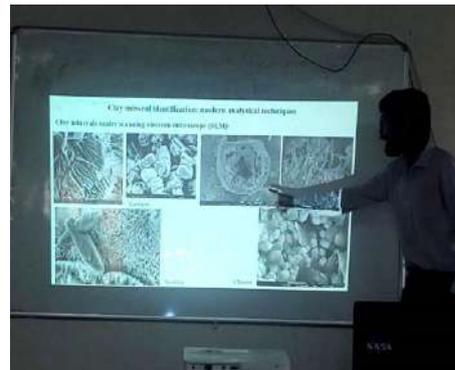

Seminar Outcome:

This presentation was structured to introduce the students to the scope of industry and research related to clay minerals. The audience got an opportunity to familiarize themselves with the geological processes resulting in clay mineral formation and the relevance of different clay minerals in modern earth science research as well as their applications in the petroleum and mining industry.

Students Feedback:

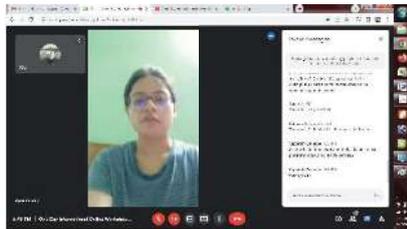

Good evening respected OIC Sir, honourable guest speakers- Dr. Priyabrata Das, Dr. Ranjan Sarkar and Mr. Subham Sarkar, all of the teachers in the college, my seniors, classmates and participants from other institutions.

Myself Apurba Dey, student of the 4th semester from the Department of Geology.

I would like to share few words regarding my experience of attending the workshop. Being a student of Geology, I was really excited about this workshop organized by our department, as it is a rare opportunity to hear such great scientists live and to get a chance of direct interaction with them. I really enjoyed each and every lecture a lot. The lectures were on different aspects of planetary science, therefore we got a broad idea of the subject. They were easy to understand and at the same time very informative. We got to know many interesting facts related to the field. The interactive sessions will definitely guide us in our future studies.

Lastly, I would like to express my earnest gratitude and thankfulness to all of the guest speakers.

Thank you Sir to all of you.

Ms. Apurba Dey, student

A one-day Seminar on “Functional Traits, Ecology and Phylogeny” was organized by the Department of Geology, Kabi Jagadram Roy Government General Degree College Mejia, Bankura-722143, W.B. on March 24, 2022 (Thursday) at 11.30AM at the Seminar Hall (Room No. 301).

The Seminar was initiated by the welcome address of Dr. Aresh Kumar Maji, Head, Department of Geology. In his address Dr. Maji emphasized on the relevance of the seminar in the offline mode after the Covid Pandemic and the need of conducting such seminars. He welcomed all the dignitaries: the Officer-in Charge of KJRGDC Prof. Alope Kumar Das; the guest speaker- Pinaki Roy, Assistant Professor of Geology, Durgapur Government College; faculty members of Dept. of Geology and other departments, students and the non-teachings faculties.

The seminar was inaugurated by Chief Patron Prof. Alope Kumar Das, Officer-in-Charge, KJRGDC. In his inauguration speech he thoughtfully addressed his concern regarding this educational initiative, welcomed all the delegates and participants, expressed his cooperative gesture towards the organizing committee and encouraged the students for their active participations.

Participation:

This seminar was organized for especially for the students of Department of Geology, KJRGDC. Around 20 participants, mostly students from current batches and few ex-students of this department, attended the lecture.

Seminar Objective:

A general pattern of geographical gradients in species diversity prevails widespread across the tree of life, with species richness in most groups declining from the tropics to the poles and from low to high elevations. This kind of variation reflects deterministic differences in the ecological capacity of environments to support increasing biodiversity towards the lowland tropics. However, the importance of these alternative scenarios remains unknown, largely because standardized information on functional traits and their ecological relevance is lacking for major diversity gradients. Functional traits are known to highlight both species' contributions to ecosystem properties and services and, their tolerance to environmental stressors and disturbances. In parallel, a phylogenetic perspective has been widely used in functional trait studies at levels ranging from individuals to communities. Keeping this in view, Department of Geology, Kabi Jagadram Roy Government General Degree College took the initiative of organizing a one-day seminar on “Functional Traits, Ecology and Phylogeny” so that undergraduate students of this department get a chance to learn this specialized yet topical subject in connection with their Palaeontology core paper under CBCS curriculum. The seminar also aimed to a one on one free interaction with the speaker which was exceedingly desired by the students after the Covid Pandemic.

Seminar Outcome:

With a spontaneous response from students, the seminar was a memorable educational event. The event aided the participants to learn about an interesting and essential topic with high academic relevance and research potential from an expert in this particular field. Participants were academically enriched through the free interaction with the speaker. They also got chance to observe a number of specimens in hand under the guidance of the speaker in the practical session.

Process of Programme:

The seminar comprised of one technical session with a single lecture of one hour. In his lecture, Prof. Roy initiated from a basic level of paleontology (especially for pelecypods) and gradually presented the topic in global background and in light of research potential. In the beginning of his lecture Dr. Roy emphasized on the Functional Traits and Phylogeny. He explained the concept of species and taxonomy and, functional morphology (different biological designs) for bivalves. He lucidly discussed on the diverse mode of life and put light on the mechanism of burrowing and boring. In the final segment of the talk Dr. Roy focused on bivalve ecology and ecosystem. He explained how bivalve impact on nutrient cycling and effect habitat.

The lecture in ICT mode was followed by a practical session with paleontological hand specimens allowing free interaction between the speaker and the students.

The technical sessions were followed by a feedback session. Nipa Sen and Nilavo Shith, student of UG-III and UG-II of this department respectively, shared their experience on the seminar. Ex-student of the department Rupan Roy also put his comment.

Finally in the Valedictory Session Convener Dr. Aresh Kumar Maji conveyed the vote of thanks. He expressed his sincere gratitude to the guest speaker Dr. Pinaki Roy for his lucid lecture, shared thankfulness to his departmental colleagues Dr. Nivedita Chakraborty and Ms. Indrani Mondal for organizing the event, Sri Karuna Ghosh for taking care of the technical issues and all other participants, especially the students for their spontaneous response and support.

Students Feedback:

- I am first time attending a seminar in offline mode. It was an excellent opportunity for me to hear such an important topic from an expert in that field and to interact with him face to face. I learned a lot of new things in an easy way. I am grateful to my teachers for organizing such an excellent talk by Dr. Pinaki Roy. I wish my department will organize such seminar/lecture in future too. Thank you.
(Nipa Sen, Roll No. 1935083, UG-III).
- It was a wonderful experience for me. Being a student of UG-II, I got a chance to know a topic of my previous semester in a more detailed and advanced way. I could relate almost everything and got a chance to know some advance level of information too which I believe will be useful during my masters. I am grateful to my department for organizing this seminar for us. Thank you.
(Nilavo Shit, Roll No. 2035096, UG-II).
- I am a student of the first batch of this department. In our time we did not get a scope to participate such academic programme in our own college. When NC Ma'am shared the notice in our alumni group I decided to attend it. It will be a memorable experience for me. I have completed M.Sc in Geology. Still I feel highly benefitted from this seminar. I express my thankfulness to my teachers of this department to organize such a meaning event. I am grateful to Dr. Pinaki Roy for this highly informative presentation. Thank you.

- Treatment was altogether a different World
- Full of opportunities for Microbial mat
- Two layer system within sediment
- New water composition was not exactly same
- Working was certainly difficult
- Plant facilities were difficult, even more inconvenient in the early stage

Students Feedback;

Good afternoon respected OIC Sir, respected chairperson, honorable guest speakers Prof. Subir Sarkar, Prof. Santanu Banerjee, Prof. Vandana Prasad and Prof. Sudipta Sengupta, all of my teachers in the college, my seniors, classmates and participants from other institutions.

Myself Sunanda Chowdhury, student of Geology UG II, 3rd Semester.

I like to share a few words regarding my experience of the seminar. This is the first time I am hearing a seminar on national level. Being a student of geology, I was really excited regarding this seminar organized by our Department, as it is a rare opportunity to hear such great earth scientists live and to get chance of direct interaction with them; especially during this pandemic time. I really enjoyed each and every lecture a lot. It was a wonderful experience for me. The lectures were on different aspects of earth sciences; therefore we got a broad idea of the subject. They were easy to understand and at the same time very much informative. We knew many interesting facts related to the field from the lectures and the interactive sessions which will guide us in our future study. I would like to express my earnest thankfulness and gratitude to all of the guest speakers. Thank you Sir, thank you Ma'am.

I would like to thank the Department of Geology of our college for arranging such a great seminar and providing us the opportunity of listening and learning from such great personalities. It's like a dream comes true. I hope my friends, seniors and juniors of my department would agree with me.

We are thankful to the teachers of our department. I wish we will get such opportunities in future too.

Thank you very much for providing me the chance to share my experience.

Call for Papers

Kabi Jagadram Roy Government General Degree College, Mejia – established in 2015 – is named after Jagadram Roy, one of the poets of medieval Bengali literature, who hailed from Mejia. His most notable work – the Adbhut Jagadrami Ramprosadi Ramayan, a transcreation of Valmiki's Ramayana – was written in the last decades of the eighteenth century.

The seminar is a collaborative venture between the college and the Department of English, Jadavpur University, under RUSA 2.0. At a time when triumphal and jingoistic nationalism and sub-nationalisms are threatening to tear asunder the diverse social fabric of this country, unitary tendencies have left the local and the regional in danger of being marginalized, appropriated, distorted, homogenized, or erased. In such cases when they do receive scholarly attention, there is a tendency to regard them as fixed or static entities, rooted and limited within their respective contexts. It is against this backdrop that the seminar's aim to bring together scholarship on local and regional nodes and networks of cultural and knowledge production assumes significance. This seminar aims to look at such regional and local cultural productions as dynamic entities, and part of a network of shared ideas and influences. We therefore solicit proposals which pay attention to the processes of production as well as those of transmission, interpretation and adaptations of cultural practices.

Report on UGC-RUSA 2.0 Sponsored One Day National Seminar on “Regional Cultures and Literatures: Locations and Linkages” Jointly Organised by Kabi Jagadram Roy Government General Degree College, Mejia and Department of English, Jadavpur University, Kolkata on 19 February, 2020

Cultural homogenization is an inevitable offshoot of cultural globalization. The process of cultural homogenization with regard to the rampant Western capitalist culture has given birth to some popular, critical jargons like McDonaldization, Cocacolonization, Americanization and the like which are nothing but the wider ramifications of cultural imperialism and neo-colonialisms. In the face of the aggressive forces of all these, along with the triumphal march of jingoistic nationalisms and sub-nationalisms, the local and the regional happen to be at a stake of being marginalised, distorted and appropriated. In such a state when unitary, homogenizing tendencies have conspired to push to the background the regionalities, specificities and pluralities of the country, obliterating people’s sense of place, a Seminar on “Regional Culture and Literatures” proves to be a necessity and almost an imperative so as to revisit and remember the significance of the regional and the local. With this view in mind Kabi Jagadram Roy Government General Degree College, Mejia in collaboration with Department of English, Jadavpur University, Kolkata has organised a UGC-RUSA 2.0 Sponsored One Day National Seminar on “Regional Cultures and Literatures: Locations and Linkages” on 19 February, 2020. It is true that despite globalization, state-centralization of cultural power and international consumerism, people have refashioned and are refashioning external cultural inputs to conform to local sensibilities. People use the very elements of globalised culture to rediscover, invent, fashion, promote and celebrate their place-specific distinctiveness. In this context, the Seminar attempted to bring together scholarship that would focus on locating the sites of transactions, transmissions, adaptations, practices and productions of regional culture and literature.

Major Takeaways from the Seminar:

1. The Seminar redirected our focus to conceptualise and emphasise the importance of the regional literature and culture littered around the diverse points of the regional sites.
2. It also helped us locate the linkages i.e., to find the sites of transactions, negotiations, transmissions and adaptations among the varied practices and productions of regional cultures and literatures.
3. At a time when the triumphal and jingoistic nationalisms and sub-nationalisms threaten to tear asunder the diverse social fabric the country thereby leaving the regional and the local in the danger of being marginalised, homogenised and erased, such a Seminar was the need of the day which made us realise and reconsider the significance of the linguistic, literary and cultural diversities in tandem with the regional and the local and the need to celebrate and appreciate them. In the context of the larger ramifications of cultural imperialism and neo-colonialism, this Seminar made us reflect and rethink on the means and strategies of preserving the local and the regional staying off the greater waves of the global.
4. In the context of the larger ramifications of cultural imperialism and neo-colonialism, the Seminar made us reflect and rethink the means and strategies of preserving the local and the regional staying off the greater waves of the global.
